Praise and pray for my mom, Jean, she is doing better. She is walking in the house without her walker with help, her memory is slowly getting better and she says she wants to do some things again on her own like showering. She came down the stairs on Christmas to be altogether instead of being in her sitting room, this is huge. Keep praying for healing of Dementia. God is moving, also pray for her right upper arm pain for months normal tests and xray
